

Audeze LCD2C - Reinventing a Classic

Conscious of the enduring popularity of the LCD-2 headphones, Audeze is updating the design and lowering the price with a more accessible LCD2 Classic variant.

SANTA ANA, CA, USA – Since its release in 2009, Audeze's original LCD2 headphone has been an industry favorite amongst passionate listeners everywhere. And now, is back and reinvented.

Audeze proudly presents a new take on its classic LCD2 design. The new LCD2 Classic (LCD2C) headphone comes with a lightweight suspension headband, special crystal-infused nylon rings, remodeled audio jacks, and features the warm sound signature of the original LCD2 driver. Made right in Audeze's Southern California facility.

By now the cheaper of the LCD Collection headphones. It includes planar magnetic drivers (106mm each) for better dynamics and frequency response, leather-free earpads and spring steel suspension headband. With ultra thin-film diaphragms and double-sided magnetics structures, it also has the famous and appreciated Audeze Technology.

Compatible with Audeze REVEAL, a set of free plug-ins that can be used for mixing and mastering on Audeze headphones with confidence. REVEAL is compatible with most popular digital audio workstations (DAWs).

Audeze LCD2C brings back the warm sound audiophiles from all around the world relate with the first Audeze headphones ever, and the HiFi brand from California wanted to revive them, taking care of their user's feedback.

The lisbonense my Hi-Fi House is Audeze's official distributor at Portugal.
